Learning Activity: 4.3

Elements in an Instructional Design	What is it?	Explain the reason for the decision in relation to the ASSURE model.
Lesson Topic:	Identifying the Main Idea and Supporting Details in a sentence	This topic helps students improve their reading comprehension and understand written texts
Subject Area:	English	It is directly related to the development of students' reading and comprehension skills.
Level of Learners:	Grade 7 students/Junior high school students	The lesson is suitable for junior high school students who are developing their reading and comprehension abilities
Duration	60 to 90 minutes	60 to 90 minutes is enough to introduce the topic, conduct activities, and assess students' understanding
Learning Outcomes	At the end of the lesson, students should be able to define the main idea and supporting details in a sentence and identify the main idea in a given paragraph.	The objectives provide a clear direction for the lesson and describe what students are expected to learn and accomplish.
Materials/Technology Tools	Laptop, projector, PowerPoint presentation, short reading passages, and printed worksheets.	These materials are needed to make the lesson easier to understand. Visual presentations and reading materials can help students recognize and understand the topic

Learning activities:	1. Show a sample sentences and ask students what they think it is about. 2. Explain the meaning of main idea and supporting details using a PowerPoint presentation. 3. Present a short paragraph and let students identify its main idea and supporting details. 4. Divide the class into groups and give each group a different paragraph to analyze and present.	These activities encourage students to participate and apply what they have learned from the lesson. They also provide opportunities for collaboration, discussion, and practice, which are important in requiring learner participation.
Assessment Activities: Pen and paper test	The teacher will give the students a short reading passage followed by five questions. The students need to identify the main idea and supporting details from the passage. This assessment will help determine whether the students have achieved the learning objectives. It also allows the teacher to evaluate their understanding and identify areas that may need support.	This assessment will help determine whether students have achieved the learning objectives.
